

TECHNICAL TRANSLATION

In order to guarantee our work is perfect, terminology is essential when it comes to a technical translation. This type of translation is essential, especially if your company has several branches in numerous countries, or if you want to launch a product on the international market. A glossary can, therefore, be very useful to ensure consistency throughout the translation.

At ELC Professional Center, our team of expert linguists have the know-how that enables us to offer you a technical translation of various documents, such as:

- Tenders,
- Technical documents,
- Aviation drafts,
- Engineering documents,
- Mechanical drawings,
- Patents,
- Certificates,
- Maintenance manuals,
- Repair manuals,
- Installation manuals,
- User and instruction manuals,
- Training programs,
- Schematics, specifications (technical sheets) and procedures,
- Warrantees,
- Quality management systems,
- Permanent operation procedures,
- Product sheets,
- Catalogs,
- Safety documents,
- Expert reports,
- Specification projects,
- Standards,
- Software.
